
Declarations/reservations and objections thereto

Chile, Republic ofratified 23 Nov 1989

Upon ratification:

"The State of Chile is ratifying this Convention, formulating an interpretative statement with regard to Article V and a reservation with regard to Article VII in the following terms:

(a) With regard to Article V, Chile declares that under the general rules or principles of law there is no impediment to seeking full reparation for the damage effectively produced in cases where such damage exceeds the limits established by Chilean law; and

(b) With regard to Article VII, Chile enters an express reservation to the effect that, when the operator is unable to obtain insurance covering any part of his liability or the totality thereof, the guarantee of the State shall be understood to apply only to the portion not covered by insurance, in such cases and conditions as are provided for under Chilean law".

(Original: Spanish)

Egypt, Arab Republic ofratified 05 Nov 1965

Upon ratification, but withdrawn on 29 March 1989:

"It is understood that the ratification of this Convention does not mean in any way a recognition of Israel by the Government of the United Arab Republic. Furthermore no treaty relations will arise between the United Arab Republic and Israel."

(Original: Arabic)